

This is Amanda Todd's first season with A5 Chattanooga. Amanda played volleyball for Heritage High School in Ringgold, GA. She was named captain her junior/senior year of high school and lead her team to a 6th place finish in state. Amanda Played club volleyball at North GA Rage her freshmen/sophomore year of high school before transferring to Chattanooga Choo Choo Volleyball club out of Chattanooga, TN for her junior/senior club season. In February of 2013, Amanda signed to play volleyball at Piedmont College, a DIII school in Demorest, GA. Amanda held the highest hitting percentage on her team throughout her junior/senior seasons. During her final season with Piedmont volleyball Amanda was named all-tournament MVP at the Greensboro Conference Tournament, earned the highest number of kills on the team, and made First Team All-Conference West Division.

As for her coaching career, Amanda has 5 years of coaching experience. Amanda began by taking over the planning portion of the Piedmont College Summer Volleyball Camp during the summer of 2014. Amanda found a deeper love for the game through coaching and joined Lanier Volleyball Club out of Gainesville, GA as a Head Coach later that year. Amanda coached with Lanier for two seasons as a 16-1s head coach before stepping down her senior year to focus on school. Amanda has coached summer camps/satellites for Auburn University and many other high school programs throughout GA under her former Head Coach, Sid Feldman.

Amanda graduated from Piedmont College in May of 2017 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology with a Chemistry minor. Immediately following graduation, Amanda moved to Atlanta and took a job as a Research Specialist for The Department of Environmental Health at Emory University. After getting comfortable with the big city life, Amanda sought out a new coaching career as a 16-2s Head Coach for Tsunami Volleyball Club. At the end of her first year with Tsunami, Amanda got engaged and moved back to Chattanooga, TN in 2018. Amanda stepped away from coaching for a year to get married and open a pizza restaurant with her new husband in North Shore, Chattanooga. Amanda is currently the Front of House Manager at Pizza Bros and has found time to reconnect with her first love, coaching.

Amanda started coaching fall youth sessions with Duane Hill prior to the 2019 club season. Amanda is eager to begin her club coaching career with A5 Chattanooga this season as a Co-Head Coach with Nancy Mueller for the 16-2s team.
